

Getting the Colour Right

After conducting our testing, we have a proven guideline to ensure the colour of your photos are printed as true as possible. Therefore, following the guideline, we strongly recommend you to adjust the brightness-contrast of your photo to match the picture in the middle (Medium).

Alternatively, you can edit your photos in any third-party photo editing software (e.g. Photoshop, ACDSee, etc.) of your choice before importing your pictures into Pixajoy Editor.
